New-England Historic-Genealogical Society
INCORPORATED IN 1845.
Rooms, No. 13 Bromfield Street, Boston.

THIS SOCIETY is pursuing the object of its organization with zeal and efficiency. Its LIBRARY already numbers upwards of 4,000 volumes, many of which are rare, valuable, and curious; about 14,000 Pamphlets; and additions are made as often as the funds of the Society will allow, the generosity of its members donate, or public-spirited individuals, appreciating the wants of the Society, contribute. A Business Meeting is holden on the first Wednesday of each and every month, at 3 o'clock, P.M., at which members are elected; the Corresponding Secretary and Librarian report; the Historiographer, the same who so ably prepares the Annual Necrology of the Alumni of Harvard College, communicates Biographical Notices of recently deceased members; and one or more original Essays, historical or biographical, is usually communicated. An attendance of the members upon these meetings is greatly to be desired.

The Rooms are open from 10 A.M. to 1½ P.M., and from 3 to 5 P.M. The Librarian is daily in attendance, and is at present vigorously at work preparing a Catalogue of the Historical and Genealogical Works in the Library. All effort of this kind is attended with more or less expense. That the Society may, at all times, be free from pecuniary embarrassment, and may use its limited means most advantageously, it is desirable that members remit their annual subscriptions of two dollars, early in the year.

Will you have the kindness to remit to the Treasurer, by mail or otherwise, care of JOHN H. SHEPPARD, Esq., Librarian, No. 13 Bromfield Street, your annual subscription for the year 1861 and therefor a receipt will be returned to you.

Yours, very respectfully,

WILLIAM B. TOWNE.

Treasurer.
